

Privacy Policy and Confidentiality

Privacy Policy

The participants agree that their personal data, in particular name, address, date of birth and images, will be collected by the Transfer & Startup Hub University of Göttingen for the purpose of the competition and that it will be processed, stored and otherwise used (e.g., publication) for the duration of this competition. The personal data will be used exclusively for the competition, especially for forwarding to the jury and mentors; when publishing submissions as part of the competition, the personal data may be used by the Transfer & Startup Hub University of Göttingen and for this purpose may also be transferred to third parties. If consent regarding the aforementioned is refused, participation in the competition by the Transfer & Startup Hub University of Göttingen is not possible; if consent is revoked in this regard, this is deemed as a withdrawal of the application.

Participants agree that the teams will be presented on the homepage.

With special consent, they can also be featured in the University of Göttingen's appearances on social media.

Without influencing participation in the competition and revocable at any time with effect for the future, participants also consent to the Transfer & Startup Hub University of Göttingen storing their personal data, in particular name, email address and home address, beyond the duration of competition so they can keep in touch with previous participants, for example, to invite them to an event.

German law applies. If any of these conditions are or become invalid, the validity of the remaining conditions remain unaffected.

Confidentiality

All individuals who come into contact with your business concept, especially the jury members, mentors, and the Transfer & Startup Hub University of Göttingen team have committed to confidentiality and non-disclosure of information through a confidentiality agreement.
