

Dear master students, to ensure a fair allocation of seminar slots, the sign-up for some of the seminars is centralized. This concerns the following seminars:

- Seminar Sustainable Development, Trade and Environment
- Trade-related and macroeconomic issues in Latin American policy making
- Minds, Society and Development
- Economics of Crime
- Empirical Education Economics: Challenges and Solutions for Developing Countries
- Globalization and Sustainability
- Industrial Policies and Economic Development
- Geospatial Analysis in Development Economics*
- Design of Socio-Economic Surveys*
- Current developments in central banking and capital markets*

If you would like to attend one or more of these seminars please fill this form between 8 March and 2 April.

In case you would like to change your selection, you can fill the form again. Only the latest completed form will be regarded.

Seminar slots will be allocated according to preferences and contested slots will be allocated in a lottery. Your chances of receiving your preferred seminar slot are not influenced by the number of seminars you include in the preference list.

You will be informed about your seminar slots between 3 and 7 April. In case you DO NOT want to take the slot, please inform the lecturer immediately.

IMPORTANT: The process of allocating topics is organized by each lecturer individually (after assignment of slots). Processes and timeliness differ for each seminar. Please make sure to check after the assignment of slots.

Please share this information with your fellow students to ensure nobody interested in these seminars misses the deadline.

In case of any questions about the process please contact counseling-devecon@uni-goettingen.de.

* Development Economics students please note that

- it is not yet finalised whether the seminar "Geospatial Analysis in Development Economics" counts as compulsory seminar (it for sure counts as optional compulsory course),
- the seminar "Design of Socio-Economic Surveys" counts as optional compulsory course
- the seminar "Current developments in central banking and capital markets" counts as elective and
- all other seminars count as compulsory seminar or optional compulsory course.
