1. General Information

1.1 Course overview

This course provides an in-depth analysis of current research on selected critical issues in development economics at the graduate level. The course covers topics on new directions of research in macro-economic and micro-economic aspects of development as well as methodological aspects of econometric analyses and policy evaluations.

Some familiarity with development issues (e.g., Development Economics I, II) as well as background in micro and macro theory and empirical economics is desirable. The course is open to Ph.D. and advanced master students in economics, applied statistics, agricultural economics, and related disciplines.

1.2 Credit points

6 ECTS credit points

1.3 Examination and grading of the module

The grading consists of two components:

- Oral presentations of a research article [2C]
- Two essays (max. 4 pages each) in the form of referee reports on two other scientific articles that are assigned to the students

In order to earn ECTS credits, you must present and discuss research articles in the tutorial (selected from the literature under the tutorials section) and write two essays.

- Presentations. Students have to present one paper and discuss two papers presented by their peers. Each presentation should be approx. 20 minutes. The grade of the presentation will be based on the presentation of
 - context and background
 - data
 - methodology
 - implications and conclusions
 - referee report-style discussion of the paper
 - your own thoughts about the paper.

Students need to send their presentation to Sarah Langlotz and their assigned discussants at least 48h before the presentation time. You will have to upload the presentation to Stud.IP after the tutorial session in which you presented.

- Essays. Each student gets randomly assigned two papers in the form of a take-home exam and has to complete two referee reports between 8am-8pm on April 12th, 2024.

1.5 Registration

Please select three papers for possible presentations from the tutorial list (highlighted in grey) below and state your ordered preferences by email to sarah.langlotz@uni-goettingen.de by February 14, 2024 (23:59). We will then assign 1 paper for your presentation, which we will announce by February 19, 2024.

Please register for the course on Stud.IP (<https://www.studip.uni-goettingen.de/>) so that you receive all pertinent information in due time (e.g., registration, virtual meetings). If you are not a student at the University of Göttingen and do not have access to Stud.IP, please email studip@uni-goettingen.de, and let them know that:

You are a guest student for the course Advanced Development Economics (course number: 800968) and will require access to Stud.IP from February to May 2024. If they require permission from the course instructor, please forward the email to sarah.langlotz@uni-goettingen.de.

Students of the University of Göttingen need to register for the exam via FlexNow. All other students need to register for the exam by sending an e-mail to sarah.langlotz@uni-goettingen.de.

2. Course overview

2.1 Description of the teaching and learning methods

The lecture is supplemented by self-study based on provided materials and literature. The accompanying tutorial (Übung) complements the lecture content. The course is split in lectures and tutorials. The course language is English.

2.2 Meetings

Please register for the course on Stud.IP so that you receive all pertinent information on possible changes in due time.
