VPN for accessing digital Media (SUB)

For five years, the SUB Göttingen has been offering VPN for access to licensed media from off campus.
Our statistics show that many members of the University of Göttingen still use our HAN server for this purpose.
We would therefore like to emphasise the advantages of VPN once again:

Access to the media is as convenient as from the campus.
You no longer need 'HAN links' from the catalogues, but can access a resource directly from the provider.
And if you do use a HAN link, no further login is necessary.
In addition, you also use a secure internet connection and can access your network drives at the university.

If you have problems with VPN, please contact studIT (https://wiki.student.uni-goettingen.de/en/support/studit_support/kontakt) or alternatively the GWDG (https://gwdg.de/en/support/). If you have any other questions about accessing e-media, please contact information@sub.uni-goettingen.de.
