

Ethnographies of racialization in contemporary Europe(s)

The series explores the dominant forms of racialization in contemporary Europe and how they are approached from the perspective of cultural anthropology/European ethnology. What might a claim to Blackness as ‘universalized politics’ (Partridge) look like? What kinds of whiteness can be differentiated in Europe today? How do the dominant forms of racialization intersect with gender, nationality, citizenship, class, and other vectors of differentiation? What methodological and epistemological issues arise for cultural anthropology/European Ethnology that wants to take racialization processes seriously?

Wednesday, 6-8pm, Verfügungsgebäude 3.106 and Zoom

16 November 2022

“With a view to temporary stay.”
An ethnological perspective on Europe’s politics of exception after the “return turn”

Marie Sandberg, University of Copenhagen

Third Annual Lecture in European Ethnology:
Cultural Anthropological Perspectives on Europe

Location: Alfred Hessel Saal,
Paulinerkirche, Papendiek 14, 1. Stock

11 January 2023

Complicating whiteness in multiple Europes
East-West inequalities and the ambiguous racialization of “Eastern Europeans”

Aleksandra Lewicki, University of Sussex

Unthinkable Europeans in Unequal Europes.
Defining Romani Europeans out of Whiteness

Manuela Boatca, University of Freiburg

07 December 2022

Moralische Gemeinschaft und Politiken der Differenz. Rassifizierung als sanft-autoritäre Herrschaftspraxis

Jens Adam, University of Bremen

18 January 2023

“Die Belegschaft hält dagegen“

dir. Maren Aldermann and AnnSo Wiegel (72 min)

Goettingen Visual Anthropology MA Showcase 1

14 December 2022

Blackness as a Universal Claim.
Holocaust Heritage, Noncitizen Futures, and Black Power in Berlin
(book discussion)

Damani Partridge, University of Michigan

25 January 2023

“Gunther Galinsky, Fotofreund”

dir. Oliver Becker and Torsten Näser (30min)

Goettingen Visual Anthropology MA Showcase 2

01 February 2023

Nesting peripheries and the problem of race: Migrants and locals in a Bosnian border town

Elissa Helms, Central European University

Almost all events will be hybrid, and everybody is welcome. If you would like to attend any of these sessions, please contact Elisabeth Wolff at e.wolff@stud.uni-goettingen.de