GVBl. p. 69), last amended by Article 1 of the Act dated 27.01.2022 (Nds. GVBl. p. 54); §§ 37 section 1 sentence 3 no. 5 b) NHG, 44 section 1 sentence 3 NHG).

Examination and study regulations for the consecutive Master's degree programme "Global Business" at the University of Göttingen

§ 1 Scope

(1) The provisions of the "General examination regulations for Bachelor's and Master's degree programmes and other degree programmes offered by the University of Göttingen" (APO) as well as the "General examination and study regulations for Master's degree programmes at the Faculty of Economic Sciences" (RPO-MA) in the respective current version apply to the consecutive Master's degree programme "Global Business" of the Georg-August-Universität Göttingen.

(2) These regulations stipulate the additional provisions for the Master's degree programme.

§ 2 Aim of the qualification

¹Besides the general objectives of the Master's degree programme defined in the RPO-MA, the graduates master the essential knowledge, capabilities and methods of international business management and this enables them to do independent academic work, they can manage a critical classification of academic findings and take responsible actions. ²The graduates have a sound education in international business management, as also specialised knowledge by virtue of an optional individual focus. ³The graduates are familiar with the new technical developments of international business management and have the ability to depict and analyse complex economical problems and their relevant economic and socio-political ramifications. ⁴Hence graduates are, taking into consideration the requirements and changes in the professional world, in a position to take up higher positions in the national and international work environment or to complete doctoral studies.

§ 3 Recommended prior knowledge

¹In the Master's programme, it is very beneficial in particular to have sound knowledge of mathematics, statistics and data processing. ²Students whose credits in mathematics and statistics were not better than satisfactory in the course of their preliminary studies, and whose English and/or computer skills are low, should therefore gain further qualifications before taking up the Master's degree programme.

§ 4 Structural contents of the Master's degree programme and credit requirements

(1) The 120 C which must be completed over the standard course length of the Master's programme in Global Business of four semesters are composed of the following:

1. Basic modules (Mandatory courses)	24 C
2. Area of specialisation (Specialisation)	24 C
3. Seminar (Seminar course)	6 – 12 C
4. Quantitative Methoden (Quantitative methods)	6 C
5. Volkswirtschaftslehre (Economics)	6 C
6. Optional area (Electives)	18 – 24 C
7. Masterarbeit (Master's thesis)	30 C

(2) ¹The basic modules in English impart fundamental advanced knowledge in the areas "Information Systems", "Finance, Accounting and Taxes", "Management" and "Marketing" and expand the knowledge already acquired in the first course of study. ²These modules form the basis for the optional required modules in the specialisation area. Here, it is possible to have a specialisation in the academic programme (Major) in the areas "Information Systems", "Finance, Accounting and Taxes", "Management" or "Marketing" and thus create a special profile.³The area seminar course deals with a specific topic from international business management. ⁴In the area Quantitative Methods, the students acquire the skills to apply scientific methods of Economic Sciences and in the area of Economics they expand their knowledge in the area of economic interdependencies. ⁵In the optional area students can acquire knowledge for creating an individual profile from other areas of Economic Sciences as well as related fields. ⁶Moreover in this area it is possible to choose modules of foreign languages along with their course, these are considered as a key qualification keeping in mind the international orientation of the course of study.

(3) ¹Students can apply to have a specialisation shown in their Master's certificate. ²Specialisations are "Information Systems", "Finance, Accounting and Taxes", "Management" or "Marketing". ³Here, at least 30 C have to be acquired in one of the named specialisations. ⁴Of these 30 C, at least 6 C must be from the area basic modules and at least 18 C from the area of specialisation. ⁵Moreover, the seminar course can likewise be credited towards the specialisation.

(4) An overview of the modules which can be selected in the individual areas, as well as the allocation of modules to the specialisation in subjects can be found in the appendix I.

(5) ¹A written master's thesis with a weightage of 30 C, has to be completed within a preparation time of 20 weeks. ²Participation in a research colloquium, in which your own work has to be presented, is a part of the master's thesis. ³The master's thesis can be commenced only after the necessary basic modules have been completed successfully. ⁴The master's thesis cannot be credited towards the specialisation statement.

(6) ¹One semester at an overseas university is a part of the Master's programme "Global Business". ²During the stay abroad, study and examination components with a rating of 30 C should be completed as a rule; however minimum of 18 C have to be earned and proven. ³The components must correspond essentially to the qualification standard of a Master's degree programme and may not be part of a module exam that has been passed or pending completion as part of this degree programme before the stay abroad. ⁴The examination committee decides about the recognition of the components done at the overseas university. ⁵This must be laid down as binding by conclusion of a "learning agreement" before the stay abroad. ⁶Failed examination components as part of compulsory study abroad at a foreign university can be retaken at the University of Göttingen.

(7) Appendix III shows a schematic overview of the course of the Master's programme "Global Business" and includes a proposal for the schedule.
